

This will be a one-day leadership journey for student leaders and teacher advisors with all levels of experience. The agenda is designed to provide participants with motivation, inspiration and information to make their schools a better place to live and learn. This is an excellent opportunity for students who might be thinking about taking on a leadership role in their schools.

• About the Speakers

Sarah Wells is an Olympian, Pan Am Games silver medallist, and the founder of the Believe Initiative. As a hurdler, Sarah is no stranger to overcoming obstacles. Before finding the sport of track and field, Sarah was cut from every high school team she tried out for. It was thanks to a teacher who suggested she try running – that teacher believed in her ability before Sarah ever would. That teacher became her coach and together they made the Olympics together, almost a decade later. Sarah wants to be able to tell the story of resilience and how you can truly make an impact in the world. She understands that not everyone is going to have that special teacher to believe in them, and so she hopes to be that person for as many people as possible.

Levi Stanford was involved in an accident only five days after being married to his beautiful wife which not only led to the amputation of his left hand but also left him fighting for his life. Waking up from an induced coma, Levi was filled with an immense gratitude for having a second chance at life, which he used to not only make a remarkable recovery but excel as a musician/singer. From this experience, Levi was inspired to share his message and now travels worldwide as a motivational speaker.
